THE EXPENSE TO THE EXPENSE OF THE EX A January Sale in December of Ladies' Jackets, Imported Model Coats, Misses' and Children's Suits.

Custom relegates these clearances to January. But precedent cannot rule us in contradiction of our best business judgment. The stock is entirely too heavy—due entirely to the weather conditions—that you understand as well as we do. We know we've got this loss to face—and we are going to face it now-TOMORROW-and give you thirty days' better advantage.

That's the reason for the sale.

And here is what the sale comprises: We have designated for sacrifice-

300 Ladies' Fine Winter Jackets, 53 Imported Model Coats, 150 Misses' Suits (ages up to 18 years), 74 Children's Dresses (ages 4 to 14 years). Also what are left of the Girls' Gretchens.

There's to be one clean, sweeping cut, that means just exactly

One-third Off the Regular Marked Prices.

It's a reduction you can figure as readily as we can, for the original tickets are still on the garments.

An important point to be considered is that these garments are part and parcel of our regular stock-all new, fresh goods-made expressly for us-and not a manufacturer's odds and ends-or worse yet, made for a special sale. With the weather that was to be expected during the period of late October and November there wouldn't have been one too many—and this terrible slaughtering would not—could not—have taken place. However, little matters the reason to you, when you are assured of the superlativeness of the values and the genuiness of the offering. That such an event has never taken place before should whet the keener your interest in it. While for us it precludes the possibility of our carrying over into next any of the present season's stock.

Ladies' Jackets.

Almost every style cloth and shade that is fashionable this season is represented. There are plain Black, Blue, Brown. and Castor Kerseys and Worsteds: Black Boucles, Black Chinchillas, made up in high-button effects. Rever effects, Fly-front Jackets, Jackets with storm collars, Double-breasted Box Jackets-all fined throughout with fine quality fancy satin or plain Black taffeta silk-man-tailor made and finished. The most Jackets. And here's what ONE-THIRD INDOOR BASEBALL GAMES.

Plans of the Local League for the Coming Year.

The last of the series of indoor baseball games between the Washington Y. M. C. A. and the Baltimore Y. M. C. A. teams will be played tonight in Convention Hall, commencing at 8 o'clock. Next Wednesday night the first game of the Washington Indoor Baseball League will be played be-tween the Y. M. C. A. and the Carroll Institute teams. The league games will continue all through the months of Decem-ber, January, February, and a part of March.

During this time two games a week will be played. The team winning the largest number of games will be given the pennant at the close of the season.

The Anxious Recruit.

(From the Detroit Free Press.)

He is a Michigan boy now fighting in Manila.

Once, when on a trip East, he squandered his substance too freely, became remorseful, and while in this mood enlisted. There was nothing vicious about him, but he was a big, strong, impulsive young fellow who had yet to learn that there are limitations even to the American rights of independence. One merning he was missing and there was conclusive evidence that he had deserted. He "as Corporal Dime, his name being the whimsical suggestion of the one coin he had left when he went to the recruiting of-face.

he had left when he went to the recruiting office.

Just as war with Spain became a certainty he was walking along by the Planter's Hotel in St. Louis and came face to face with his old captain. Instinctively he clicked his heels together and saluted.

"I don't know you, sir," said the captain quickly and gruffly. "Never did know you. You don't know me. Never forget that, sir. "Your name might be Nickel, for anything I can tell."

"Half right," laughed the stalwart youth, who had twigged the captain. "I have been longing to enlist ever since this trouble threatened. What would you think of it?"

"Any tolks?"

"A mother, well and happy," and they looked ach other in the eye, for it was her serious illmess that had caused the boy to ask for a fursuch and then desert when it was refused. "I think I saved her once."

"Glad of it. Glad you want to enlist. Never be as awkward as any one in the awkward squad."
